About CAGH

The Canadian Association for Global Health (CAGH) is a member organization that convenes, partners and champions global health equity.

Our mission is to connect, engage, and mobilize a strong global health community across Canada and internationally to support health equity.

We are conveners | CAGH brings diverse people together to enhance global health and equity. We share knowledge across the research-practice nexus and convene for global health training, networking, project work, advocacy and more.

We are partners | CAGH partners in developing and implementing global health initiatives. We collaborate with Canadian, international, and LMIC partners, as well as governmental and non-governmental organizations, striving for a shared vision of global health equity.

We are champions | CAGH catalyzes and advocates for action and positive change in global health. We speak out, engage, and champion causes supporting global health equity.
